

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

There are so many that I am indebted to for their contributions to this book. My only hope is that I have not omitted someone. Should I have, I apologize profusely!

First and foremost I am most grateful to Robert F. Amos, co-author of Defenders of Liberty, the story of the 2nd Bombardment Group/Wing, 1918/1993. We spent many hours exchanging bits of history of the 2nd Bombardment Group during World War II.

Clark B. Gathercole furnished countless information of the 96th Bombardment Squadron. Robert T. Peterson and Edwin C. Wade, Jr. were extremely helpful in finding many "Lost Souls." Thanks to Elizabeth Albrecht Singer for her research at National Archives, Washington, D.C. Thanks to John Mattison, 885th Bombardment Squadron for the story of Miss Charlotte. Thanks to Walter Clausen for his permission to use excerpts from his book, G. I. Journey, to Ralph Geller, Rev. Eugene Parker, Bruce Magnuson, Robert Hofmann, Frau Berta Kurz Bauer, Robert Davis, Ashland, OR, for artwork, Col. C. E. "Ben" Franklin, 15th AFA, Karl Affenzeller, Austrian historian, Steve Birdsall, Australian author, M. Philippe Castellano, French historian, Fredy Peter, Swiss historian, Michael Sisovsky, Czechoslovakian historian. Also, thanks to Judi Clement, for her computer desktop publishing skills, and to Clem Clement, Betty Mo, Gene Mo and Hal Wochholz, for their computer expertise.
